

This has been going on for so long. Are you still involved or have you completed your work concerning induction loops for the council premises?

Damian Brewer has left the RNID and is now Access Officer in Horsham. Do you know who his replacement is in Brighton?

Can you give me some names for the RNID people that Bob Dumbrell mentions in the email below? So many questions!

I would be grateful for any information.

If you were to look at my blog you would see that in the dossier called DDA claim that there is an order by Brighton County Court judge that my action will be dismissed if I dont bring it back to court, by I think May. If I dont get any firm dates from someone soon I feel I must go back to court to get the judge to make an Order spelling out the dates. This has been going on since July 2005.

Do you think the council is dragging its feet or is there difficulty in getting the RNID in trying to commit themselves. As far as you know, is it the RNID that has been contracted to do the physical work? Those questions you cannot answer I will then have to put to Bob D.

Best Wishes

Colin
