Dear Stephen,

Thanks for this email.

1) I may have said ways as a typo for maps. I've now checked that email and I did write maps. So maybe it was a mental typo of yours! My grounds for objection remain the same reinforced by my sadness that Brighton Council had lost so many MAPS!

2) I'm happy for you to disclose my details and in fact my whole written objection to the people in St James' Place. I am quite happy to meet them providing of course there is no bullying - I very much doubt if they have that in mind. I wish them and indeed everybody to understand that I am very much against "gated communities" everywhere and wish to preserve the right of all to traverse public ways anywhere, anywhen.

By chance, I now sit on the Brighton and Hove Local Access Forum under the Access to the Countryside Act. One of their main interests is the preservation of footpaths in B&H. The next meeting is at the end of November and I will try and get this matter raised there. Whatever my eventual view is things will not happen in a hurry.

I'm quite happy for you to disclose this email.

Colin Bennett
