Subject: St James' Place

Dear Mr Bennett

I understand that you spoke to Mark today. I also understand that you may consider meeting the residents of St James' Place over the weekend or on Monday. Mark has told me that you were very upset after my telephone call to you. I would like to repeat - as I said in my email yesterday - that I am sorry if I upset you. I certainly did not mean to. I would like to think that we can draw a line under that conversation, because I now understand that you are acting out of a sense of public and civic duty.

I hope you appreciate the difficulties that the residents of St James Place have faced in getting this far.

Please could I ask you to allow me to join in when you meet Mark either over the weekend or on Monday, as I would like to meet you and apologise again in person.

I look forward to hearing from you.

Yours sincerely

Hari Singh Virk
