Dear Sir/Madam

Colin Bruce Bennett v. United Kingdom

In accordance with the requirements I am sending you a letter of introduction to my case.

I checked by telephone with your staff that I could send this by email but was informed that I had to follow this by sending the same information by post. This I am now doing.

I emailed Webmaster at the given email address. I attach a print-out of that email which is dated 08:45 on 18 October 2005. I did ask for notice of receipt of this email and repeated that request on not hearing from Webmaster. I am not complaining but just stating the facts. I know it was received by Webmaster as the email did not "bounce back".

Please acknowledge receipt of this letter, which has all the necessary attachments that I mention in the email. I need to know the date by which you require my submission. I can readily accept emails even though I am a registered blind person.

Yours faithfully

Colin Bruce Bennett
